

Film and Media Studies Graduate Certificate Checklist

Our certificate is designed for graduate students whose research includes analysis of media texts and technologies, and provides training in methodologies and a basic familiarity with critical and theoretical discourse, both historical and contemporary, in which film and media are discussed.

Apply online: <http://graduate.ku.edu/ku-graduate-application>

Be sure to apply for graduation (<https://sis.ku.edu/apply-graduation>) during your final semester of certificate coursework- certificates cannot be granted retroactively.

4 Courses (12 credit hours) of coursework in Film and Media Studies:

Courses:	Semester:
FMS 862: Survey of Film and Media History
FMS 865: Contemporary Film and Media Theory
700-level course or above (excluding Production courses) _____
700-level course or above (excluding Production courses) _____

For questions, please contact Julia Reilly, Graduate Academic Advisor, juliareilly@ku.edu.